INSURANCE COMPANY ENJOINED.

From Paying a Policy—The H. H. Snow Estate. Charles P. Snow, the Chapel street confectioneer, yesterday morning made application through his counsel, Prentice W. Chase, for an injunction to restrain the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company of Hartford from paying over to the relatives the insurance on the life of Mr. Snow's father, Henry H. Snow. The latter was a confectioneer in business in Park place, New York. Last winter he died suddenly from heart disease, and since then there has been a contest over the will. Mr. Chase secured the injunction from Judge Hall against the life insurance company, which restrains them from paying the insurance to any of the relatives until the contest over the will of the late Henry Snow is settled.

Is It in Order. This is delightful weather for exercising on the wheel. A spin for a few miles or so does not take the life out of you, but seems to invigorate and renew you in mind and body. But to enjoy a ride your wheel must be in order, and after having been away with you all summer and perhaps been tinkered with by novices it should be looked over. Take it down to Vern Hall and let the E. C. Bennett company, 128 Orange street, overhaul it. They are experts in putting a wheel to rights, and you feel like riding twice as far just after it has come from their hands.

Use THE PINE-OIL BALM, a soothing combination of the remedies nature has put in the pine and other balsamic trees. It cures the inflammation and tickling in the throat and if taken in time will prevent the spread of the disease to the lungs. Ely's Pine-Oil Balm is strongly recommended in cases of asthma. Twenty-five cents in a bottle. Tell the neighbors about it. o2 teeditw
